

Anybody can be a hero. Trees are heroes because they give us oxygen.

Construction workers make us homes so we don't live on the street. Farmers give us food so we don't starve to death. Doctors give medicine to help us stay alive. There are many more heroes in the world but there are too many to write about right now.

I think that the heroes of Charlotte's Web are Charlotte, Fern and Templeton.

Fern saved Wilbur from being killed by her father. She kept him for herself because she didn't want him to die at a young age. Templeton and Charlotte were heroes because Templeton went to the dump to get old magazines for Charlotte. She used the words for her web to impress Mr. Zuckerman by making him famous and nobody would want to kill a famous pig. The words that Charlotte spun on her web were "SOME PIG".

She also tried terrific on her web. I think that is why these characters are the heroes of the book. They saved Wilbur from being killed. -KS