

What is a hero? In my opinion a hero is a person who does great deeds. A hero has to take risks for others. A hero would dive into a pit of lava to save someone's life. Heroes are all around you like doctors, firemen or policemen. A hero does the right thing. If I had soccer ball that rolled away and I went chasing it and then someone saw me, the wrong thing to do would be to kick it away from me. The right thing to do would be giving the ball back to me. That's what I think a hero is.

I think Charlotte, Fern and Templeton were the heroes in Charlotte's Web. Fern saved Wilbur's life by convincing her father by comparing a human baby to a little runt. Would he kill a small baby? No of course not! Fern took very good care of Wilbur. She gave Wilbur milk, she fed him, and she treated him just like a human. Templeton got the magazine strips from the dump to weave into Charlotte's Web. The words were amazing words all about Wilbur. She wove the words that made Mr. Zuckerman think Wilbur was special. Mr. Zuckerman wouldn't want to kill a special pig for breakfast. Templeton gave Wilbur new friends and they were Charlotte's children. Wilbur asked Templeton to climb up to Charlotte's egg sack at the fair to save her eggs and bring back to the farm. There were lots of heroes in Charlotte's Web and with their help, Wilbur could live a life without worry.
